The Fine Print

Most exhibits open on the first Friday of each month although we do occasionally accommodate special cases. The gallery will publicize openings, provide yummy cheese, arrange interviews and handle any sales during that time.

We love to bring artists to Juneau for openings and especially if they have a workshop or lecture they can share with the community. Covering travel isn't always practical so we have to weigh this expense on a case by case basis.

The gallery receives 35% of all exhibit sales and the artist receives 65%. We do require a few images we can use to publicize the event but the exhibiting artist retains all rights to their work.

The exhibiting artist agrees to have their work delivered to the gallery at least week prior of the opening date. For non-locals: the artist is responsible for shipping costs to us, we will ship your unsold pieces back to you. We will make our best efforts to keep your artwork safe and defect free but we cannot guarantee a total safety of your artworks against the rigors of travel and display. Please pack, seal, and plan accordingly.
